

Colorado Christian Services

Since 1963, nearly 1,200 children have been placed into loving, Christian adoptive families and over 6,500 women have received crisis pregnancy support and counseling services through Colorado Christian Services.

Expectant Parent Services

We provide free and confidential face-to-face counseling, access to medical care, as well as information about community resources and referrals. We also help meet our clients' basic needs, helping with transportation, housing, food and assistance with covering pregnancy/delivery-related medical expenses. We are here to listen and talk through legal rights and options, including exploring all aspects of parenting and adoption. We offer ongoing counseling after birth or placement, including a monthly support group for birth mothers seeking continued care and connection.

Community Support Services

Our Community Resource Room is a boutique-style shop that is open to CCS clients as well as the general public. We come alongside expectant mothers, new parents and caregivers by providing them with essential baby supplies at no cost to them.

Adoptive Family Services

Colorado Christian Services is a full-service adoption agency and a source of hope for Christian couples who are experiencing infertility. Our dedicated caseworkers guide families through the entire adoption process, including family assessment, placement of the child as well as post-placement services. We continue to support families throughout the legal process of finalization of the adoption and beyond.
